Cooperation with ICAEW (The Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales)

The Department of Accounting and Finance is pleased to announce that in cooperation with ICAEW (The Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales) University of Cyprus’ students will have the opportunity to claim an additional exemption from the professional Chartered Accountant qualification, ACA. This brings the total number of exemptions awarded to the University of Cyprus to nine (9).

The exemption is awarded for ICAEW’s Financial Accounting and Reporting module of the Professional Level and will be awarded to students that succeed in an additional exam after their successful completion of two advanced level courses in Financial Accounting.

The Department of Accounting and Finance would like to take this opportunity to thank the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales for the excellent cooperation and especially for the support and acknowledgement of the quality of education at the University of Cyprus. AFN is committed in enhancing this cooperation further in the future.

For more information interested students can contact the department’s secretariat or website and ICAEW’s website:
