

The Foundation Horizon of Palaepaphos based on Pottery

Evangelia Christodoulidou

This research aims to explore the foundation horizon of Palaepaphos in time and space on the basis of pottery. For this purpose the earliest pottery found at Palaepaphos dated in MC III-LC IA/B is documented and compared with the Bronze Age pottery found in other archaeological sites of the hydrological basin of Paphos. In the end the resulting data is examined in correlation with the information given by the archaeological material dated in the same period (MC III-LC IA/B) and found in the rest of the island.