

Phonetics Laboratory

Director: Dr Spyros Armostis

Contact: armostis@ucy.ac.cy

The mission of the Phonetics Laboratory is to provide a space for students of the Department and faculty members to conduct experimental work in phonetics and laboratory phonology. It is equipped with workstations with speech analysis software for facilitating acoustic processing of speech signal.

In the coming future, the Laboratory will include a sound-treated booth for making recordings and running experiments in the areas of perceptual phonetics and psycholinguistics.

The Laboratory can be accessed by undergraduate and postgraduate students of the Department interested in conducting experimental research on speech/language production and perception.