

University of Cyprus Graduate School

* ANNOUNCEMENT *

Reduction of the deposit of the tuition fees due to COVID 19 for the Academic Year 2020/2021

The Graduate School of the University of Cyprus announces that due to COVID 19, the amount which is paid in advance by the new students upon offered a place in a postgraduate programme is reduced by 50%. This reduction applies to all the new students starting their studies in the Fall and Spring semester of the Academic Year 2020-2021, including the self-financing programmes.

Specifically:

- The deposit of the tuition fees for the Academic Year 2020-2021 is reduced to €250 (from €500).
- The remaining amount of €250 will be added in the next installments of the tuition fees of the programme.

It is clarified that in case newcomers graduate students at University of Cyprus wish to leave University of Cyprus before their graduation at University of Cyprus, they have to prepay 500 Euros, according to the present rules. On this, it is emphasized that the effective policy of the University of Cyprus never changed, and that the fees' deposit has been always set to 500 Euros. Hence, any students that have deposited the amount of 250 Euros, in the context of applying the Body's decision to provide for economic facilitations due to the adverse economic situations caused by the pandemic of COVID-19, have still to pay to the University of Cyprus the remaining amount of the prepayment, amounting to 250 Euros, which the University of Cyprus shall continue to arrogate.

15 December 2020