

Creation of an electronic account

In order to use the BannerWeb system to register for courses, students need to know their user id and password. These are the same as those used to access your email at the University of Cyprus (web mail).

New students:

Newly admitted students are required to create an electronic account through the website <http://www.ucy.ac.cy/iss/en/register>. Students should enter the following information by using Latin characters:

- a. Identity Card number
- b. The University Department that you are admitted (choose from a Drop-down List)
- c. Name (First, Surname & Middle Initial—entered in English), exactly as written on your online application form and as shown below:

Account Creation Instructions

In order to register you need to fill the following form. Your details should be entered in English, as these were given during your registration to the University of Cyprus. If you have a Greek ID and it contains letters you should enter them in Greek.

Other students:

1. All students are required to create an electronic account in case you have never created one before, by using <http://www.ucy.ac.cy/register>.
2. Students who have forgotten their Username or Password may find their Username or create a new Password on the webpage <https://iam.ucy.ac.cy/> (click English) by clicking on the appropriate link as seen in the icon below:

Welcome to the Identity and Access Management Service.

The Identity and Access Management (IAM) service has been established to deliver a unified approach to the authentication, or login, process across the University while also simplifying the creation of an individual's information distributed across systems.

Find below links that will allow you to self modify you account information
