

Honor Frost Foundation Scholarship

The Honor Frost Foundation (HFF) (<https://honorfrostfoundation.org>) offers a scholarship to a candidate pursuing a PhD at the programme Archaeology of the Mediterranean from Prehistory to the Byzantine Era, of the Department of History and Archaeology.

The PhD research should be on a topic related to Coastal Archaeology of the Eastern Mediterranean, with a focus on themes such as: maritime geoarchaeology, digital approaches to the management of maritime cultural heritage, the archaeology of harbours and anchorages, and the assessment of coastal threats — including the impacts of climate change on coastal archaeology.

Admission: Fall Semester, Academic Year 2026/2027 (September 2026)

Eligibility for the scholarship is contingent upon successful admission to the PhD programme. Candidates should apply through both the HFF scholarship program and the University of Cyprus. Please be aware that these programmes have different deadlines.

Application deadline for HFF scholarship: 16 March 2026 (apply here)

Application deadline to the University of Cyprus: 31 March 2026 (apply here)
