

VISIT OF AN ACADEMIC FROM POLAND

In March, as part of the Erasmus program, Kamila Szczepanowska, Professor of English at the Language Centre of the Nicolaus Copernicus University in Toruń (Poland), visited the University of Cyprus. Ms. Szczepanowska gave lectures to Economics, Psychology, Electrical / Computer Engineering and Mathematics students as part of their English courses.

Ms. Szczepanowska also had the opportunity to meet with University of Cyprus students who are participating in the Blended Intensive Program "English for Entrepreneurship" organized by Nicolaus Copernicus University. These students will participate in an intensive workshop that includes the following topics: young entrepreneurship, sponsorships and startups for a week in July in Poland, together with their instructor from the Language Center of the University of Cyprus, Andreas Athanasiades, and students from different Universities from Poland, Croatia, Finland and Belgium.
